A journey of 9 years

One random day, a group of youngsters belonging to different fields varying from engineering to twelfth grade, from designing to law sat in a room, a thought about taking an action, a step towards the betterment of society. Many resemble the same situation but only few take a step, these youngsters were one of the few who thought of taking an action towards the enhancement of society, helping the government as an NGO to create a better India. On the date, 28 June 2014, VBI (Volunteers for a Bright Inspiration) was created, and it's going to complete five years of success by this 28 June, 2019 with lot of memories and events. The youngsters have grown and are now on the path of being more experienced in the field. From understanding the reality of poverty and slums to the technical financial management. The group of VBI, has grown and turned to group of more than 150 volunteers, from working at a single location, the volunteers are now close to covering many vast cities of Gujarat.

Volunteers for a Bright Inspiration works on Eight topics namely: EDUCATION, ENVIORNMENT, DE-ADDICTION, RURAL DEVELOPMENT, HEALTH, WOMEN EMPOWERMENT, SENIOUR CITIZEN AND ANIMAL PROTECTION. The volunteers of VBI, have been giving their weekend to the Nation by educating the people of slum. They've taught them from the basics. They've inculcated the children with not only basic primary education but also the basic way of living which includes sanitation and well-being. The female volunteers also taught the girls there the importance of being clean and also guided them to stay safe from the people who wish to exploit them. When money was not a problem, the parents of the children used to create a problem saying that they don't want to send their children. The first 2-3 months were a chaos for VBI but the volunteers stayed determined throughout and got through the problem. They made those children their priority and gave their heart, soul and sweat to make them a better person with regards to education.

The Volunteers never asked for donation or funds they always used to create a fundraiser event in the form of HYGENIC FOOD STALL so that even the volunteers grow and understand the concept of management and financial aid. During those events the volunteers used to face internal chaos but even that was coped up by them, this shows their maturity level about how they have grown.

If we talk about the events done by VBI, the word limit would not be enough, in these 5 years VBI has been a part of many event including the fundraisers to raise funds for the education of the children. From being a part of International Yoga Day for 2 consecutive years to having a Health camp for the Needy. VBI also helped Swasthgram Association in their campaign and also had the opportunity to showcase the same at New Delhi. Along with these professional events, VBI never forgot about their children they celebrated every festival with them, from Diwali to Rakshabandhan , From taking them to Church during Christmas to Taking them at an event 'CHURPY BURPY' Where the kids participated in a RAMPWALK in front of the audience of Ahmedabad.

The smile on the faces of those kids cannot be explained through words, the happiness on their parents face when the kids recite the entire ABC was out of this world, and all the volunteers could experience were the TEARS OF JOY.

One day, on the location came a man, an auto driver, who had a daughter named DIVYA, a 5year old. She was suffering from paralysis in both her legs, he came to us because DIVYA still had time to get operated till she turned 6 and then she could walk normally and who knows could even run and be the next P.T Usha rather the first DIVYA. Volunteers did their best to ask for funds from people they know and also, through social media. Every volunteer gave their heart and soul towards the idea of Divya walking again. The senior volunteers went through the paperwork and all the reports of DIVYA and thought of shifting her to a better hospital, and again, with god's grace the doctor waved his fee and only charged us with the medical overhead expense. VBI is not an organization which is always financially stable, we had to go through a lot to even bear that medical expense, but the people helped us, some of them were very generous with their donations and even the volunteers cut their entertainment and gave that money in the collection for DIVYA. Then it was the DAY, when Divya finally got operated, the joy in her Father's eyes was enough for us, and when we came to know that now DIVYA could walk from the little that we did, we were motivated to thrive even more to help everyone that we can who are in need. But financial constraint is always a problem for us, and being a group of youngsters with no financially strong background we do our level best to make sure that the financial barrier is never something that creates an issue.

This was one major incident that VBI was part of this year, VBI as an organization is still developing like our country and wishes to stop at infinity, with all this, our volunteers have also been a part of issuing Aadhar Card and election cards for people who did not have them because the foirst step to develop the nation is the usage of our fundamental right of voting. VBI as an organization thinks Education will improve overall development of the next generation of the Slum lives and more over give children higher change of being employed rather than begging on the streets for easy money.
